

The true cost of an office chair?

It might be tempting to buy the cheapest chair money can buy, but as the saying goes "penny wise and pound foolish". Your staff are your responsibility and so is their health and well being while at work.

Our Fit out Blog

We started a blog post at the beginning of the year which over time has turned into a valuable source of information, or so many of our clients have told us. Here are three of our most popular posts. We welcome you to go to the blog at www.apexei.com.au/blog and leave your comments, and any questions you may have. Your input will be there for all to see for years to come.

Exposure to Asbestos during an office refurbishment or renovation?

Asbestos even in 2012 is still the silent killer. It is still present in many of Sydney's offices. Office renovations can be the time when otherwise encapsulated Asbestos fibres can become friable (airborne). There is a right way and a wrong way to handle the situation.

Client: Reed Specialist Recruitment
Location: Sydney CBD
Time Scale: 3 weeks
Area: Approx 290m²

Client Profile:

REED is a specialist provider of permanent, contract, temporary and outsourced recruitment solutions, IT and HR consulting.

Scope of Works:

Assist in building selection as well as the design and construction of an office fitout that maximised collaboration between staff, while creating a warm inviting environment for candidates.

Works Included:

- ▲ Boardroom facilities with easy to use state of the art audio visual equipment
- ▲ Installation of a cost effective workstation solution, meaning more could be spent on ergonomic seating and adjustable monitor arms, benefiting all staff
- ▲ Provision of a breakout area where staff can relax including a fully plumbed kitchen
- ▲ Provision of tailor made storage facilities, maximising the use of office space
- ▲ Sound rated partition walls, so confidential interviews can be held.

Challenge:

The final weekend was time critical due to the relocation of furniture and IT equipment. The office had to be up and running first thing Monday morning.

Solution:

Collaborative planning, leading up to the day was essential to the success of the move. Using separate teams of installers allowed us to work around the clock, completing the project well before the due hour.

“Reed Specialist Recruitment recently engaged Steve Parkins and his team at Apex Executive Interiors to design and fit-out a new office for our expanding business. Their team of professional tradesmen completed every aspect of the job to a very high standard. A first class fit-out was delivered on time, to budget and without issue.”
